

Privacy Policy

International University Audentes Student Union Privacy Policy

Please read this policy to understand what information may be collected, how it will be used, and what choices you have regarding the use and sharing of that information when using "IUASU" branded sites including those at www.iuasueu, (the "Sites").

The "IUASU" branded Sites are the property of International University Audentes Student Union ("IUASU"), Tondi 55, 11316 Tallinn, Estonia. International University Audentes Student Union is the official association representing the student body of International University Audentes and is administered by its government ("Student Government").

By using the Sites you agree to the collection and processing (including disclosures and international transfer) of information about you in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

I. Types of information we collect and how we use it

IUASU may collect the following information (and such information will be processed by either paper or automatic means in strict compliance with current applicable law on privacy and in accordance with this Privacy Policy):

1. Contact Information:

For persons signing up to the IUASU services IUASU may collect contact information and other information about you, such as your name, email address, telephone number and address and other related information.

2. Email addresses and related information

There may be opportunities for visitors to the Sites to sign-up to receive email communications by opting in to receive email information messages. Visitors may subscribe by providing an email address and other requested information and agreeing to IUASU's use of information about them in accordance with this Privacy Policy. We may use the information provided by visitors to send them information about activities and services provided by IUASU and our partners. We may use a sub-contractor acting on our behalf (eg. a supplier of email delivery services) to send you such information. Recipients of email marketing messages will have the opportunity to unsubscribe from future messages from IUASU or third parties acting on behalf of IUASU via the link(s) provided within the relevant message. For the avoidance of doubt, IUASU will ensure any such third party is obliged to: provide guarantees of security; act only on IUASU's instructions; and comply with the same security requirements, which apply to IUASU.

There may be opportunities for visitors to the Site to use other IUASU products or services for which information about you is required. This information will be used in accordance with any applicable privacy policy and/or terms of service.

3. IP addresses and information specific to your computer

IUASU may log IP information when you visit our Sites. In addition to this information, IUASU may collect information that your computer's browser automatically reports to us such as information about your operating system and browser version. IUASU receives IP addresses from all users because this information is automatically reported by your browser each time you view a web page.

IP addresses may be used for various purposes, namely to:

- review fraudulent activity;

- diagnose service or technology problems reported by our users or engineers that are associated with the IP addresses controlled by a specific web company or ISP;

- provide analytics with respect to users from specific countries or regions of the world.

II. Information Sharing and Disclosure

IUASU may share information about you if IUASU is acquired by, acquires or is merged with another organization. In this event, IUASU will notify you separately before information about you is disclosed and becomes subject to a different privacy policy. IUASU may (for the purposes specified in this Privacy Policy) disclose information about you to its group associations or joint ventures worldwide.

IUASU may (for general data management and account administration purposes) also transfer information about you to a jurisdiction, which may not provide the same level of protection for that information as your jurisdiction. IUASU has implemented reasonable technical and organizational measures designed to secure your personal information from accidental loss and from unauthorized access, use, alteration or disclosure. However, the nature of the Internet is such that information may flow over networks without appropriate security measures and may be accessed and used by unauthorized persons.

Please note that we may also share information in the event that we are asked to respond to court orders or other legal processes, or as otherwise required or permitted by law.

III. Other

IUASU may update this policy at its discretion. We will notify you about significant changes in the way we treat personal information by placing a prominent notice on this site or contacting you in writing (including by email).

The Sites are not targeted at children and are not intended for use by children under the age of 13.

The provision of information about you is entirely voluntary and you have the right not to provide information, although this may affect your use of the Sites, or IAUSU products or services.

Subject to applicable law you have the right to receive certain information as to whether or not information about you is collected and processed by IUASU and to obtain a copy of such information that is sought. You also have the right to require that information, where appropriate, be erased, blocked or made anonymous (although this may affect your use of the Sites, or IUASU products or services) or to have data updated or corrected. IUASU is not responsible for the practices or policies, or content, of web sites other than the Sites or other sites with the IUASU domain, including site, which link from the Sites or other sites with a IUASU domain. The treatment of information by those other sites may not adhere to this Privacy Policy.

If you have any questions or wish to contact IUASU about this Privacy Policy, or about your information, which is held by us, or if you want to change the sort of information about you that IUASU may have collected, please contact:

International University Audentes Student Union, Student Government, room 117, Tondi 55, 11316 Tallinn, ESTONIA or;

student.government@udentes.eu